

Miller & Rhoads

Mail Orders Filled at Advertised Prices

Men's White Plaited Front Shirts, New---Extra Special! 50c

Just in yesterday afternoon. Long, plaited front in wide & narrow plaits. Good quality muslin body; cambric front; correctly sized, full length sleeves; reinforced seams; nicely laundered.

There hasn't been as good a value in plaited fronts shown this season at 50c---& we ought to know, as the Miller & Rhoads shirt values are acknowledged to be the best in Richmond.

Fancy stripes in new pastel effects of purple, green & tan. Neat effects in black figures & stripes on white grounds. Plain blue cambric.

White Flat Satin Shirt Madras, just as good cloth as in many $1 shirts; attached or separate cuffs, 50c.

Plain White Neatly Made Shirts.
White plaited bosoms.
Neat stripes & figures.

New wide stripes of tan, green & purple, plaited or plain front; attached or separate cuffs. A collection of shirt values such as you'll not see anywhere but here, $1.00.

BOARD NOT READY TO NAME WINNERS

Completed List of Division Superintendents May Be Announced To-Day.

HELD EXECUTIVE SESSION

Crowds Here from Many Sections to Protest Against Recent Selections.

At the end of an extended session of the State Board of Education, held at the capital last night, it was officially announced that it would be impossible for the board to complete the work of deciding all the contests left over from the last session until this afternoon and that all the appointments would be given out together. Alfred B. Williams, editor of the News Leader, made formal application for admittance to the meeting, being promptly refused on the ground that the sessions of the board are always held behind closed doors. There was a small army of prominent public men in waiting, some of whom wished to appear before the board in the interest of this or that candidate, but they all quietly left the Capitol about 11 o'clock, when Superintendent Keaton opened the door to the room in which the meeting was being held and announced that there would be nothing to give out until to-day.

Many Delegates Here.

There are a large number of delegates on the ground. Some are fighting over contests that are still unsettled, some are seeking to undo what the board has already done.

The Valley section of the State is largely represented, among those counties whose superintendents are still unsettled being Rockingham, Augusta, Frederick, Clarke, and Shenandoah. The cities of the State are also strongly represented, each having a bitter contest on its hands. Buckingham is likewise in evidence, there being a sharp factional fight on for division superintendent in that county. Consolidations have been agreed upon in other districts, indications being that hardly any of the people in the consolidated counties will be satisfied, unless the board shall determine upon a reconsideration of its former action.

There are many people in the State who appear to be greatly exercised over the matter of the appointment of school superintendents in their respective localities, this widespread interest indicating that the final action of the board as to the contested cases now pending will be looked forward to with much eagerness.

BUILDING PERMITS

Rush of New Work Continues in All Parts of the City.

Building and repair permits were issued yesterday as follows:

E. L. Frazier, to erect a two-story dwelling, to cost $2,350.

D. C. Kennedy, to erect a two-story dwelling, to be used for two dwellings on the east side of Twenty-eighth Street, between Grace and Broad Streets, to cost $3,000.

R. A. Carter, to build a stable in rear of 6 South Fifth Street, to cost $200.

Joseph Flaherty, to repair two frame dwellings, 3005-3007, Williamson Avenue, recently damaged by fire, to cost $300.

William Stationery Company, to repair a brick warehouse on the north side of Marshall, between Kinney and Bowe Streets, adding two one-story additions, to cost $2,500.

OFFICE-HOLDERS IN SECOND PLACE

Republicans Pick Delegates to State Convention at Newport News.

SESSION WAS HARMONIOUS

Former Democratic Member of Legislature Elected--May Put Out Local Ticket.

Republicans of Richmond met at Belvidere Hall last night, and in the most harmonious session held here in years named delegates and alternates to the State Convention, to be held in Newport News on July 23, at which Republican candidates for Governor and other State officers will be nominated.

There were about 450 men in the hall, and while the Federal building and office-holding contingent was well represented, it was also noticeable that there were present many men who are not usually active in politics. One of the delegates named, James L. Shelton, was at one time a member of the State Legislature from Louisa on a Democratic platform.

Only Ten Colored Men.

In the back of the hall there were about ten colored men, who took no part in the proceedings. The only White faction was in full control, and every delegate and every alternate is from the white wing of the party.

City Chairman C. Ridgeway Moore called the meeting to order and a John Schenck took the place of the elected delegates. After the election of Leslie H. Drew as chairman and Melvin Fegenheimer as secretary.

Following are the delegates elected: Delegates--C. G. Dickerson, J. Mann, Leslie H. Drew, B. R. Eldridge, George A. Hanson, Hamilton Field, J. R. Kidd, Colonel E. B. Brink, J. T. Anderson, Paul L. Newell, Melvin Fegenheimer, J. J. Redmond, Marcus McKay, Charles E. Cary, James Manning, E. Arnold, J. W. Sargeant, James L. Shelton, W. W. Page, Alton L. Lawrence, Dr. B. A. Hord, B. A. Liegers and A. G. Rogers.

Alternates--John A. Murphy, M. M. Williams, W. D. Soldo, C. H. Tripoli, R. H. Talley, R. E. Cabell, C. M. Lippart, H. G. Sharpley, E. Eubank, Dr. L. W. Staton, B. T. McCue, William Oxenham, J. M. Collier, C. A. Overton, Charles E. Cary, J. H. Feldner, Edgar Allan, Jr., T. D. Eddy, Tuller Winfree, R. A. Martin, J. E. Fowler, M. E. O'Brien, and W. P. Arwood.

It was remarked that while several Federal officeholders appear on the list of alternates, there is no representative of the colored race among the list of delegates, and owing to the convenience of the trip it is expected that practically all of the delegates will go.

A resolution was adopted directing the Richmond delegation to vote as a unit on all questions presented to the State Convention.

May Put Up Local Ticket.

While no formal action was taken in the way of placing a Republican slate in opposition to the city officers nominated in the Democratic primary of Thursday, a committee of five was appointed to look into the advisability of placing a ticket in the field for the State Legislature from Richmond, to report to a later mass convention.

Representative Republican leaders were delighted with the harmony displayed in the meeting, the attendance on a stormy night, and the character of the action taken, declaring that the old factions in the party had evidently been healed.

DRANK CARBOLIC ACID

Colored Child Almost Killed by Taking Deadly Drug.

Clarence Kinlope, a two-year-old colored boy, living at 6 West Cedar Street, toddled over to neighbor's yard yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, and while no one was looking, got possession of a bottle of carbolic acid and drank to drink the contents. Dr. Costello, the city ambulance force, was hurriedly called by neighbors, and the physician found the child in a most critical condition. It was impossible to know how much of the drug he had swallowed, but marks on the chin and neck indicated that he had taken a goodly quantity. The child was treated and left at his home in a critical condition.

HEAT AFFECTS STRANGER'S MIND

Charles H. Roberts, of Washington, Asks for Rest in Police Station.

Overcome by heat, Charles H. Roberts, claiming to be from Washington, D. C., walked into the Police Station yesterday afternoon, and asked for a room where he could rest. He was given him until he was able to get up and walk out again.

The man was a stranger in the city, the desk sergeant placed him in charge of an officer and sent him to the room. The man, who was named Charles H. Roberts, was a white man, about 35 years of age, and was dressed in a suit and tie. He was very pale and looked very ill. He was taken to a room in the Police Station, and was left there until he was able to get up and walk out again.

But Roberts nowhere else to go, was allowed to spend the night in a cell, where he seemed comfortable and not quite so perturbed as when on the other side of the bars.

Qualifications in Chancery.

Oscar E. Flannard qualified yesterday in the Chancery Court as guardian of Augusta W. Flannard.

Albert D. Brockwell qualified in the same court as executor of the estate of William Francis Seymour, the estate being valued at $10,000, and as guardian of the estate of William Francis Seymour, Jr.

Judgment Entered.

Judgment was entered in the City Circuit Court yesterday in the suit of the Toward-Ridford Electric Manufacturing Company against Daniel H. Hancock, for $50.81.

It's Every Man's Opportunity To-Day

High-Class Suits, Worth Up to $28.00

Choice $16.00

Soft and Stiff Straw Hats, Worth Up to $3.50

Choice $1.65

GANS-RADY COMPANY

TO QUIT BUSINESS ON JANUARY 1ST

Satterfield Will Give His Entire Time to Office of City Sergeant.

Politicians spent much of their time yesterday explaining how the results of the municipal primary came about. There were many more Satterfield men in the city yesterday than could be counted on the previous day, though it turned out that the Marshall Ward Alderman won his fight for City Sergeant over his two competitors with votes to spare. No one is disposed to repeat the mistakes the Satterfield supporters now that the battle is over. It being well known, owing to the fact that there are many who would like to see the new sergeant take care of certain men as deputies, that the hearts of numerous politicians have softened to the Satterfield cause.

Satterfield Happy.

The winner was disposed to take his victory philosophically, though he greatly appreciates the confidence reposed in him by his fellow citizens. He was at his place of business yesterday, working as hard as usual, rolling cabbage barrels, as though nothing out of the ordinary had happened. Mr. Satterfield according to his campaign declarations, will on January 1 retire from active business in order to devote his entire time to his duties as sergeant.

Many reasons are advanced for the nomination of Mr. Satterfield, though it is a noticeable fact that none came from the Smith people, whose leader was a strong supporter of the nomination of the twenty-five precincts in the entire city. The supporters of the winner rest their case upon the simple fact that their leader had the voters with him, being content to stop there.

Died with Their Boots On.

A wonderful fight against great odds, dying finally with their boots on, are disposed to say that if the Smith forces had accomplished anything in Jefferson Ward, Clay Ward and First Marshall, where the present sergeant has always been strong, the election of Anthony would have been assured.

They are saying further that the Satterfield-Epps combination had much to do with the result, though Mr. Anthony's only personal comment upon the fight is that he is grateful beyond expression to the men who stood by him so loyally in every section of the city, enabling him to carry four out of the seven wards by handsome pluralities, thus making him a close second to the winner. Anthony's friends point to the further fact that, though Mr. Anthony defeated the Smith forces by a plurality of 299, Mr. Anthony beat Mr. Smith by a vote of 307. Mr. Satterfield's plurality over Smith was 666, this having constituted one of the real surprises of the day.

REPORTED DAIRYMAN

Henshaw, Fined for Selling Cream

Eugene Henshaw, who was reported by the Board of Health, was fined $20 in Police Court yesterday morning on a charge of selling cream without a permit. He took an appeal, and the case will go on its merits before a jury in July.

Allegations that Henshaw, who is employed by an Italian, was reported by Inspector Curtis as having an unsatisfactory dairy, and his license had been revoked.

The case against M. T. Eache, white, who is charged on two warrants with having obstructed the street car track, and then with having cursed Conductor Robert W. Tiller, was continued to July 2.

W. E. Pollard, charged with refusing to move when ordered by a police officer, and C. E. Brown, charged with having interfered with the officer, were discharged.

R. J. Taylor, colored, was dismissed on the charge of selling liquor on Sunday, but was fined $5 for laboring at his trade on the Sabbath.

Verdict Set Aside.

Judge Ingram, in the Law and Equity Court yesterday, entered an order setting aside the verdict in the case of the Richmond Pattern and Structural Iron Works against the Southern Bell Telephone Company, a former term of the court the case was tried before a jury, and a verdict rendered for $388.55. Judge Ingram's order will give the defendant the benefit of a new trial.

Most were of a civil nature, several were criminal offenders, and they got the limit.

Abraham Gibson, colored, charged with entering the house of Mr. Bowen, just outside of Oak Grove, was dismissed.

Though two alarms were turned in, the fire on the Chesapeake and Ohio trestle below the Fulton Gas Works yesterday afternoon did small damage, burning up only a few railroad ties. The trestle had been spread, however, and done much more damage except for the responding engine.

Injured by Saw.

Trial was begun yesterday in the Law and Equity Court of the suit of William Young against Charles A. Vinfield for $5,000. Young, who is a colored man, claims damages on account of serious injuries received in an accident while operating a saw at the wood yard of the defendant.

Richmond Store: 623 East Broad Street

ICE MISSION IS DOING GREAT WORK

Help, However, Is Needed to Relieve Suffering Among Poorer Classes.

The cry for ice and the demands made upon the Ice Mission of the Associated Charities for this summer necessarily during the past week of excessive heat have been many, for there is much suffering among the destitute and sick, and especially teething babies. As the charitably disposed public of Richmond has come forward with liberal contributions to aid in this cause the mission has been able to meet the demands, when, after investigation, it was found that the deserving ice tickets have been supplied wherever cases were found to be in need. All contributions received since June 1 are as follows:

Charles Straus, $2; John W. Richardson, $1; Mrs. E. L. Mayo, $5; H. S. Wallerstein, $10; cash, $2; E. B. Addison, $5. Total, $25.

News of Manchester

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch.

No. 1102 Hall Street.

Ashton J. C. Walton, a well-known young man of the city, was arrested on the charge of beating his wife, and after several ballots had been taken, there were four applicants for the place and some were the best known young men of the city.

At first it appeared that the matter would be tied up, as two ballots were taken without an election. On a third, however, Mr. Walton was unanimously elected.

At present Mr. Walton, who is a young man, is employed at the Richmond branch of the American Locomotive Works, where he has given satisfactory service. While he is well known in the city, he has not been afflicted with politics and his election came as a surprise. When the announcement was made that he was waiting to hear the result were utterly surprised, as he was not thought to be a strong candidate.

The election of a secretary to the department was not gone into at the time that a superintendent was elected, and the contractor very greatly regretted before, but in all probability he will be ready in a short time after that date. Weather conditions have delayed the contractor very greatly, and for this he would probably be ready for the ceremonies on the national holiday. The stone has been cut and a platform for the speakers. This will take some time to put in place, but it will be impossible for him to get everything in readiness by the Fourth.

Funeral of Mrs. Harry T. Cobb.

The funeral of Mrs. Harry T. Cobb, who died at the residence of her brother-in-law, Mayor H. A. Maurice, Wednesday morning, was held yesterday morning at 11 o'clock from the residence. Interment was made in Mount Cemetery. The following acted as pallbearers: Hon. W. E. Baker, W. B. Bradley, T. A. Cobb, T. W. Evans, Dr. E. G. Hill, William Jenkins, Dr. J. H. Erickson, E. C. Wyatt, and E. L. G. Ford. Active Standard Archer, W. E. Beattie, Dr. Norman Field, Allen McGhee, W. G. Saunders, H. M. Lander and E. M. Street and J. C. Woodford.

Personal and Briefs.

The Seaboard Air Line matter will be finally decided by the meeting of the Board City Assembly to take place on July 11.

Ira Thompson, who has been very sick, is rapidly improving and will be able to be out on the streets in a few days.

The gospel tent meetings, which are being conducted at Hull and Clopton Streets, under the auspices of the Clopton Street Baptist Church, are attracting large crowds. Last night Joel T. Tucker preached and Miss Butler sang a solo.

The annual excursion of the Sunday school of Coldwater Avenue Christian Church will be held at Buckroe Beach on July 23.

Miss Fannie Campers, who has been sick for some time at her home on Cavalier Avenue, is rapidly improving.

Thomas J. Walsh was a visitor to the city yesterday. Mr. Walsh is a native of Chesterfield county, and says that the roads leading to this city are in good condition.

It has just been announced in this city that B. J. Stanley, of Oak Grove, and Miss B. H. Marshall, of the same place, were married in Washington, D. C., on June 21. They have returned to Oak Grove, where they will make their home.

Get Federal Pensions.

In the Henrico County Circuit Court yesterday Federal pensions were granted to four women and one man. The women were Mrs. Mary J. Ford, Mrs. W. S. Barker, Mrs. Susan Hicks and Mrs. Isabelle T. Saunders. John Rogers's pension was rated, and all the pensions were certified.

Trestle on Fire.

Though two alarms were turned in, the fire on the Chesapeake and Ohio trestle below the Fulton Gas Works yesterday afternoon did small damage, burning up only a few railroad ties. The trestle had been spread, however, and done much more damage except for the responding engine.

Injured by Saw.

Trial was begun yesterday in the Law and Equity Court of the suit of William Young against Charles A. Vinfield for $5,000. Young, who is a colored man, claims damages on account of serious injuries received in an accident while operating a saw at the wood yard of the defendant.

Richmond Store: 623 East Broad Street

W. L. DOUGLAS

$3.00 $3.50 & $4.00 SHOES

The next time you need shoes, give W. L. Douglas a trial. W. L. Douglas name stamped on a shoe guarantees superior quality and more value for the money than any other make. He stamps his name and price on the bottom to protect the wearer against high prices and inferior shoes. Insist upon having W. L. Douglas shoes. Take no substitute.

No matter where you live, W. L. Douglas shoes are within your reach. If your dealer cannot fit you, write for Mail Order Catalog. W. L. Douglas, Brockton, Mass.

Boys' Shoes $1.75 & $2.00

Richmond Store: 623 East Broad Street

TOOK LAUDANUM TO COURT SLEEP

Richmond Boy Has Narrow Escape from Death in Hoboken Boarding-House.

"Will my troubles never end?" declared Mrs. J. A. Jeffrey, of 911 East Marshall Street, last night, when she learned that her son, Ernest Jeffrey, had swallowed a dose of laudanum in Hoboken, N. J., Thursday night, having been driven to this act by the heat and intense pains, caused by an attack of appendicitis.

According to advices from Hoboken, it is not believed that Jeffrey took the poison with suicidal intent, but merely to force sleep. The young man, who is twenty-four years of age, went to New York from this city about two months ago, and was employed in a slaughtering establishment in that city. He boarded with a Mrs. Webb in Hoboken.

Thursday afternoon he returned home from work and requested that he be called early yesterday morning. When Mrs. Webb went to his room she received no response to her knocks, and becoming frightened, summoned a policeman, who broke down the door. Jeffrey was unconscious, and on the bed was found the bottle which had contained the laudanum. He was hurried to St. Mary's Hospital, at Hoboken, where he fought five men, whose combined strength was required to enter him.

Wireless Home for Money.

He finally became calm, and after physicians had given him treatment for the overdose of laudanum he told of the pain he was suffering. Investigation revealed the fact that Jeffrey was suffering from appendicitis. He will be operated upon and will in all probability be a patient for the next six weeks.

Dispatches from Hoboken state that among letters and papers found in his pockets were some that showed him to be in poor financial condition, and that he had been financially worried for some time. Mrs. Jeffrey said last night that her son had no need to be in poor financial circumstances, though she admitted that only recently she forwarded him some money.

She also admitted that he telegraphed for it. He has a brother who is general manager of a large manufacturing concern in Erie, Pa., on whom Mrs. Jeffrey said he was at liberty to call for funds if he was in need.

The mother is confident that her son did not take the laudanum with suicidal intent, but is sure he did it to allay the pain of the attack of appendicitis, though she did not know he was suffering from this malady. In connection with this she told a reporter that for years her son had been subject to attacks, but she was always of the opinion that this was caused by the cramps. She frequently cautioned him, she said, to take better care of himself.

"He was always of jolly and cheerful nature," said Mrs. Jeffrey, "and I am sure that thought of suicide never entered his head."

BRIDGE ON FIRE

Sparks Start Blaze in Cross-Ties on Belt Line Trestle.

Sparks from a passing locomotive set fire to wooden ties on the Atlantic Coast Line trestle, known as the Belt Line Bridge, over James River, just above the New Pumphouse, last night about 8 o'clock, and for a few minutes there was every prospect of a dangerous blaze. It was visible to trolley drivers on the pumphouse road, and telephone messages soon alarmed the dispatchers at the Chesapeake and Potomac Railroads. Section men were sent in both from Boulton, on the north side, and from Clifton, on the south, but the rain had already stopped the incipient fire. The bridge itself is of metal construction, and but for the wooden beams and cross-ties on which the railroad track runs, there is little for flames to feed upon. The damage was slight.

DELIGHTFUL SEA TRIPS TO BOSTON AND NEW YORK IN CONNECTION WITH NORFOLK AND WESTERN PASSENGERS TO NORFOLK.

Ships leave Norfolk for Boston 7 P. M. every day except Thursday, for Providence, 7 P. M. Mondays, Thursdays and Saturdays; for New York, 7 P. M. every day except Sunday. Fare from Richmond to Boston, $13.50 one way, $24 round trip; to Providence, $12.50 one way, $22 round trip; to New York, $9 one way, $15 round trip. Above rates include meals and state-room berth and bus transfer from depot to wharf at Norfolk. The Norfolk and Western "Green Shore Limited," the fastest and most popular train to Norfolk, leaves Richmond 3 P. M.; arrives Norfolk without change of cars, at 5:20 P. M., connecting with steamers to above points; also to Baltimore and Washington. Staterooms reserved in advance and every assistance given those arranging for trip. Parties passing through Richmond will be met at train if desired. For full information call on or write to J. P. KNOX, City Passenger Agent, 543 East Main Street, or C. H. BOSLEY, District Passenger Agent.

MERCURY JUMPS TO 95 AND HALTS

Lingered There for Two Hours, While City Sweltered and Fumed.

When the thermometer in the United States Weather Bureau got up to 95 degrees yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock and lingered there until after 5 o'clock, it gave Richmond the hottest day of the season, and made the fifth day of intensely hot weather. From present indications and prevailing conditions, Section Director Edward A. Evans declares that there is little hope of any abatement in the present temperature for several days.

The average temperature of the past five days has been 81 degrees, four degrees above normal. During this period there has been but a slight trace of precipitation, though considerable was registered during the first three weeks of June when it rained nearly every day.

June 25, one year ago, the official records show, the maximum temperature registered in Richmond was 78, and not since June 25, 1899, when the maximum temperature was 93, has there been a June 25th as hot as yesterday.

Reports from other cities show that Richmond is not alone in this unusual spell of heat, but suffering is far greater in some of the Northern and Eastern cities. Especially from Boston, New York and Philadelphia come reports of many prostrations, though victims from the heat in Richmond have been comparatively few.

Last night the crowds were preparing to get out into the parks when an electric storm came flapping up, followed later by a heavy fall of rain. This gave the temperature a slight indoor-outdoor, though it was close indoors--too close, in fact, for comfort.

Armed with a thousand and one credentials signed by consuls and others high in authority in every part of the habitable globe, here to Constantine, those who gave him license to enter and clerical garb, called yesterday afternoon in the offices of B. M. Anderson, in the American National Bank building, and with a "God bless you, sir," received a donation of 50 cents from a clerk for the cause which he represents, and then entered Mr. Anderson's office and asked for a contribution. Then he descended the stairs at a pace not usual to the slow, gold-colored, and Anderson liked not his words and tone at all.

After he had received 50 cents from one man, the Turk, who gave him his name as Seemon Antonio--if that is the way it is spelled in Turkish--approached Anderson with deferential bows and the looks of the foreigner did not appeal to Mr. Anderson, and he informed the visitor that he had nothing for him. Then the Turk backed himself by the door, and said that he would not let Mr. Anderson out until he did contribute. This time the latter was a little more forcible.

This angered the subject of the Sultan, and he became voluble. He proceeded to curse the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Episcopal clergy and members of the Anglican Church. Following on those who pray for blessing on those who gave him license to enter and clerical garb, called yesterday afternoon in the offices of B. M. Anderson, in the American National Bank building, and with a "God bless you, sir," received a donation of 50 cents from a clerk for the cause which he represents, and then entered Mr. Anderson's office and asked for a contribution. Then he descended the stairs at a pace not usual to the slow, gold-colored, and Anderson liked not his words and tone at all.

After he had received 50 cents from one man, the Turk, who gave him his name as Seemon Antonio--if that is the way it is spelled in Turkish--approached Anderson with deferential bows and the looks of the foreigner did not appeal to Mr. Anderson, and he informed the visitor that he had nothing for him. Then the Turk backed himself by the door, and said that he would not let Mr. Anderson out until he did contribute. This time the latter was a little more forcible.

This angered the subject of the Sultan, and he became voluble. He proceeded to curse the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Episcopal clergy and members of the Anglican Church. Following on those who pray for blessing on those who gave him license to enter and clerical garb, called yesterday afternoon in the offices of B. M. Anderson, in the American National Bank building, and with a "God bless you, sir," received a donation of 50 cents from a clerk for the cause which he represents, and then entered Mr. Anderson's office and asked for a contribution. Then he descended the stairs at a pace not usual to the slow, gold-colored, and Anderson liked not his words and tone at all.

After he had received 50 cents from one man, the Turk, who gave him his name as Seemon Antonio--if that is the way it is spelled in Turkish--approached Anderson with deferential bows and the looks of the foreigner did not appeal to Mr. Anderson, and he informed the visitor that he had nothing for him. Then the Turk backed himself by the door, and said that he would not let Mr. Anderson out until he did contribute. This time the latter was a little more forcible.

This angered the subject of the Sultan, and he became voluble. He proceeded to curse the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Episcopal clergy and members of the Anglican Church. Following on those who pray for blessing on those who gave him license to enter and clerical garb, called yesterday afternoon in the offices of B. M. Anderson, in the American National Bank building, and with a "God bless you, sir," received a donation of 50 cents from a clerk for the cause which he represents, and then entered Mr. Anderson's office and asked for a contribution. Then he descended the stairs at a pace not usual to the slow, gold-colored, and Anderson liked not his words and tone at all.

After he had received 50 cents from one man, the Turk, who gave him his name as Seemon Antonio--if that is the way it is spelled in Turkish--approached Anderson with deferential bows and the looks of the foreigner did not appeal to Mr. Anderson, and he informed the visitor that he had nothing for him. Then the Turk backed himself by the door, and said that he would not let Mr. Anderson out until he did contribute. This time the latter was a little more forcible.

This angered the subject of the Sultan, and he became voluble. He proceeded to curse the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Episcopal clergy and members of the Anglican Church. Following on those who pray for blessing on those who gave him license to enter and clerical garb, called yesterday afternoon in the offices of B. M. Anderson, in the American National Bank building, and with a "God bless you, sir," received a donation of 50 cents from a clerk for the cause which he represents, and then entered Mr. Anderson's office and asked for a contribution. Then he descended the stairs at a pace not usual to the slow, gold-colored, and Anderson liked not his words and tone at all.

After he had received 50 cents from one man, the Turk, who gave him his name as Seemon Antonio--if that is the way it is spelled in Turkish--approached Anderson with deferential bows and the looks of the foreigner did not appeal to Mr. Anderson, and he informed the visitor that he had nothing for him. Then the Turk backed himself by the door, and said that he would not let Mr. Anderson out until he did contribute. This time the latter was a little more forcible.

This angered the subject of the Sultan, and he became voluble. He proceeded to curse the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Episcopal clergy and members